

AXIS DIPLOMAT

Accounting and Business Information Solutions

More than just an Accounts package, not just a stock control or order processing system, AXIS Diplomat is a fully integrated modular Business Information System.

The modular design of AXIS Diplomat means the close fit to your business of a bespoke solution, with the dependability and peace of mind of an off-the-shelf system. You select the functionality that you need for your business operations and, with literally hundreds of options available to choose from, it is this flexibility that gives you a tailored fit, 'off the peg'!

Integrated Modules for Every Aspect of Your Business

Within the AXIS Diplomat range, you will find modules available to cover full business process, whatever your business (wholesale, distribution, manufacturing or service based).

- › Manage your pre-sales and post-sales processes with a powerful CRM module
- › Manage your purchasing and stock replenishment with the Purchase Requirements module
- › If you are a Manufacturing or Assembly company, use the Bill of Materials or MRP modules to identify your requirements for finished stock and components
- › If you have a Trade or Retail counter, use the Point-of-Sale module, with either standard PC hardware or specialist EPOS equipment
- › Use powerful Bar Coding facilities throughout the organisation, from goods inwards to Point-of-Sale

eCommerce Integration

Many businesses now aim to offer online purchasing to their customers, whether in a retail environment or to trade account customers. For these situations, AXIS Diplomat links seamlessly with the AXIS VMerchant eCommerce solution.

For multi-channel organisations, use a single integrated order processing system for all orders, regardless of whether they have originated from your website, via the phone, fax or through the mail.

3rd Party Integration

AXIS diplomat integrates with a wide range of external services, including:

- › Telephony systems
- › Credit card payment services providers (PSPs)
- › Postcode address retrieval
- › Telephone / Fax Preference Service (TPS / FPS) validation
- › Carrier software
- › EDI (Electronic Document Interchange)

Pedigree

AXIS Diplomat can trace its ancestry back to the 1980's, and the first accounting and stock control system for microcomputers. Technology has moved on, but the principles adopted then still hold true today to provide quality software and support facilities based on solid business and accounting values.

AXIS Diplomat has been tested by Microsoft's laboratories before awarding Axis First its Independent Software Vendor (ISV) / Software Solutions competency.

Networking Infrastructure Solutions
ISV/Software Solutions

Within the AXIS Diplomat range, there are modules available to support the full business process, from Purchasing and Procurement, through Manufacturing and Assembly, to Distribution, Sales, CRM and eCommerce.

At the heart of every AXIS Diplomat system is a comprehensive accounting system, including Budgeting and Cash Book modules, as well as powerful Stock Ledger and complete CRM contact management facilities.

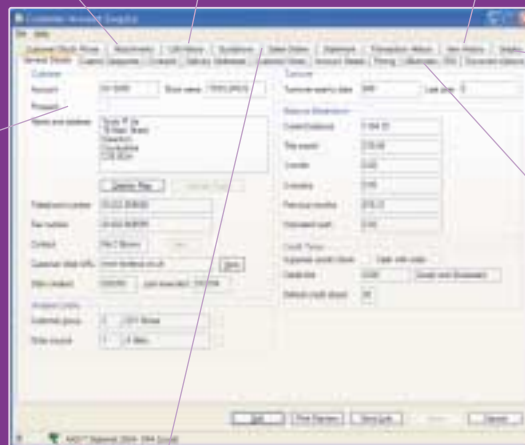

Available for between 1 and 100 clients, AXIS Diplomat runs on industry-standard Microsoft Windows™ platforms. Multiple-site operation is fully supported using Microsoft Terminal Services technology. Workstations may be PCs, 'thin' clients, point-of-sale terminals or wireless hand-held devices.

Attach documents including word processing, spreadsheets and scanned documents to customers, suppliers and other accounts
